

Privacy Policy for Stephanie Dethlefs | Book Coach and hellowriters.net

This Privacy Policy explains how I collect, use, store, and share your personal information. By giving me your personal information, you show that you accept this privacy policy. I'm committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. I want to assure you that any personal information given to me will be used in accordance with this privacy policy.

Collecting Personal Information

Personal information will be requested under several circumstances, including but not limited to when someone

- contacts me
- inquires about and/or purchases a coaching session
- subscribes to the newsletter
- completes an evaluation.

I will only collect what I need to provide you with the product or service. Information requested may include (but is not limited to)

- your name
- your contact information, including your email address and phone number
- demographic information such as preferences and interests
- other information relevant to how we will be working together.

I will collect information from you directly, never from a third party.

Use of Information

Your information will be used to help me provide the best products or services I can for you. For example, I might use it to

- contact you about your request or question
- enter into a contract with you
- communicate about your project
- ask you for feedback or testimonial
- send email newsletters and other relevant information

Sharing of Information

I will protect your personal information. I will not sell or rent your information to third parties. I will not share your information with third parties for them to market to you. I use secure cloud services to store most of the personal information I collect.

Right to Access and Control of Information

You have the right to ask for a copy of any personal information I hold about you. You also have the right to ask me to correct your information. You have the right to unsubscribe from any and all communication at any time. Email hello@stephaniedethlefs.com to ask about accessing or correcting your personal information or ceasing communication.

Third Party Links

The website may contain links to other sites. Please be aware that I am not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. I encourage my users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information. I may link to several websites or social media that I have no control over. A link to another site does not mean I support all the content on that site. I am not responsible for the content of websites I link to or the privacy practices of those websites.

Use of Cookies

A cookie is a small text file that is placed on your hard disk by a website. The use of cookies is an industry-standard and most major browsers are initially set up to accept them. You can reset your browser to either refuse to accept all cookies or to notify you when you have received a cookie. However, if you refuse to accept cookies, you may not be able to use some of the features available on the website.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

Although most changes are likely to be minor, hellowriters.net and Stephanie Dethlefs may change its Privacy Policy in our sole discretion. I will post the updated policy on the website and, if required by law, further notify you of the changes. In all cases, the use of the information we collect now is subject to the Privacy Policy in effect at the time such information is collected. Please check this policy frequently for updates and changes. If you continue to visit or use the website after those changes are in effect, you agree to the revised policy.
